Cookie policy

From CompanyFormationWiki, the free encyclopedia of company formation · Last updated 26 November 2026

In short: CompanyFormationWiki uses statistics cookies (Google Analytics 4 through Google Tag Manager) only if you click Accept in the cookie banner. If you reject them, or make no choice, nothing is loaded from Google and no cookie is set. You can change your choice at any time with Cookie settings at the bottom of every page.

What we store

Name	Type	Purpose	Set when	Expires
`cfw_consent`	Local storage (our site)	Remembers your cookie choice so the banner does not reappear on every page	You click Accept or Reject	We ask again after 12 months
`_ga`	Cookie (Google Analytics)	Distinguishes visitors with a random identifier	Only after Accept	2 years
`_ga_<container>`	Cookie (Google Analytics)	Keeps the state of the current visit	Only after Accept	2 years

Storing your choice is strictly necessary to respect it, so it needs no consent. The statistics cookies need your consent (Article 399 of the Polish Electronic Communications Law, implementing Article 5(3) of the ePrivacy Directive).

How consent works

- Until you accept, Google Tag Manager is not loaded at all, and Google's consent mode is set to “denied” for every purpose.

- If you accept, only analytics storage is granted. Advertising, ad personalisation and personalisation storage stay denied.
- If you later reject through Cookie settings, we delete the Google Analytics cookies and stop sending data.

More information

How the statistics data is processed, the legal basis, retention (14 months) and your rights are explained in the Privacy policy. Google's own information: How Google uses cookies .
